ALUMINUM IN THE ARMY.

The Government Hopes to Use it for Dishes, Bayonets and Scabbards.

Washington, Sept 20.—War department officials of the ordnance bureau are giving attention to the proprietors of sluminum plants. It is in the line of small equipments that the army is expected to utilize the metal. Samples are in the ordnance bureau of aluminum cups, belts, buckles, hooks and borse shoes. It is hoped that in the near future it will be found practicable to use the light metal not only for drinking cups and dishes of the soldiers, but for bayonets, scatbards and other accourrements in which strength is not the first requisite.

How South Carolina Colored Men Have Been Deprived of Their Votes.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 20.—Grave trouble is likely to be stirred up here by the attempt of the old line Democrats to vote the negroes against the Tillmanites this fall. South Carolina has peculiar registration laws. When adopted some ten or more years ago the law required that all citizens of the state over 21 years of age should register by and be-fore a certain date; that they should receive registration certificates, which should be shown to the managers of elections whenever a vote was polled. Under these laws citizens who did not register by the named date in the law could not register afterwards and are disfranchised.

The law was passed to eliminate the negro. It has largely had that effect, but at the same time it has eliminated many white men from the exercise of the ballot. Of course, there are ways to get around this law, but they are complicated. Many negroes who registered have lost their registration certificates.

These can be renewed by proof that they were lost, but it is a round-about process and it is hard for a negro to get two for 5 cents; cigarettes, 4 cents a the proper proof if it is desired that he package." Mr. Hutchinson refused to be the proper proof if it is desired that he should not do so. Again, all sorts of tricks have been resorted to deprive negroes of their registration certificates. Among others, an agreement was made with a circus which traveled through the state several years ago, by which the circus was to accept registration tickets of negroes for so many tickets to a performance and in many cases the negroes preferred to give up their registration tickets rather than pay over the money. Of course the circus received the cash from the campaign managers for these registration tickets. In this way several thousand were secured and that many negroes were forever disfranchised. SET HIS HAIR AFIRE.
